A NEW post office will open in Haverhill next month – offering a range of services seven days a week.

The post office will open at the Premier shop in Grove Court, Brybank Road on Wednesday, September 7.

The new branch in the Hanchett Village area will be open from 7am to 11pm, Monday to Sunday.

Services will be offered from a low-screened, open-plan post office counter.

Baldev Kahlon, post office field change advisor, said: "We recognised the gap in our existing post office branch network and we are therefore delighted to be opening a brand new local branch.

"The new branch in Haverhill will have extended opening hours and a Sunday service in order to meet the needs of the Hanchett Village community.

"We are making it easier for customers to get their cash, send or collect their mail and do their banking because we know how important these services are to local residents.

"We are confident that this vibrant new-style post office at the heart of the local community will meet customer needs in Haverhill.

"This modernisation is part of a major investment programme, the largest in the history of the Post Office."

Currently, the nearest post office branches are over a mile away from the Premier store – at Gloucester Road and on the High Street.

'Gateway' given facelift

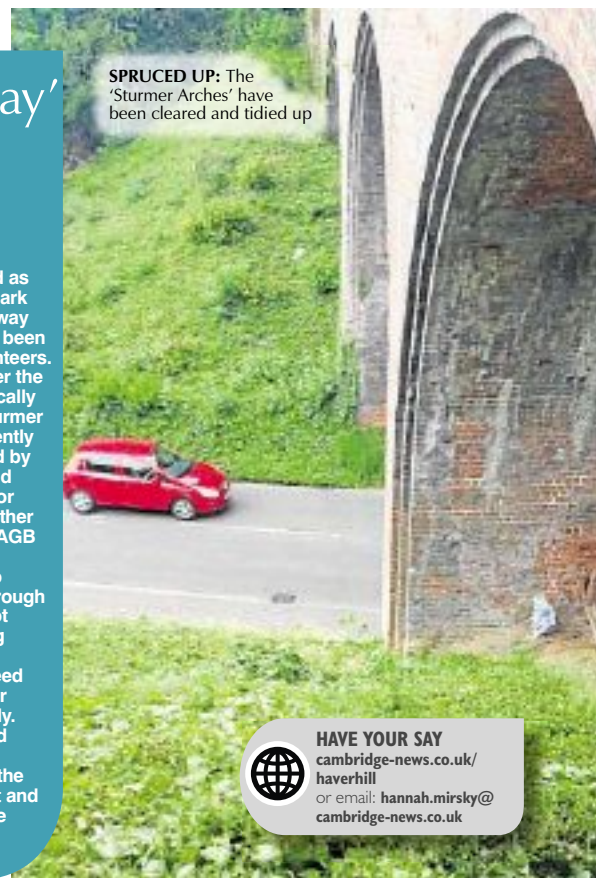

A THREE-ARCH viaduct described as a Haverhill landmark and eastern gateway into the town has been tidied up by volunteers.

The viaduct over the Sturmer Road, locally known as the 'Sturmer Arches', was recently cleared and tidied by Suffolk county and borough councillor Tony Brown, together with others from AGB Drilling.

Tony said: "Two years ago the borough council spent a lot of money clearing the area as it was overgrown. I agreed to tidy the popular landmark regularly.

"We've had kind comments from people who said the area looked great and thanked us for the work."

CRIME

Vehicles seized in day of action

TWO vehicles have been seized and a number of drivers dealt with following a day of police action in Haverhill.

Officers from specialist teams, including the roads policing unit and the west Scorpion pro-active unit, teamed up with response colleagues in Haverhill last Wednesday.

They carried out additional road patrols and stopped vehicles to target criminal activity, including drug dealing.

As a result two vehicles were seized – one as the driver had no insurance and the other as it was being driven by someone who didn't have a licence.

Officers also dealt with six people who were not wearing seatbelts, four people who were driving without insurance and three who were driving while using a mobile phone.

TARA COX
@TaraCoxCN

There were also two motorists caught driving without an MoT for their vehicle and two who were driving without the correct licence.

Police also carried out five breath tests and two drugs tests, although these were negative.

Inspector Danny Cooper, who oversees policing in Haverhill, said: "This day was part of on-going work to tackle criminal activity in the area.

"We will continue to carry out both warrants and road checks to target those believed to be supplying drugs into the town."

Inspector Cooper also said that tackling drug dealing and drug use 'remains a priority' for police in Haverhill.

He added: "It can take time to build sufficient information about a location or individual and I know this is frustrating for those affected but we are listening and will take action.

"We are also working with the local authority and housing partners for long term solutions.

"I would encourage anyone with information to report it to us via the local safer neighbourhood team or anonymously via Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111."

Care company in plea for memorabilia to help dementia patients

A CARE company in Haverhill has issued a plea for memorabilia to use in a new memory corner to help dementia patients.

The Cambridge Care Company, which provides home care, respite care and support for people in and around Haverhill, Newmarket and Bury St Edmunds, is urging people to donate any memorabilia they can.

Manager of the Haverhill branch, Nathalie Gilder, said: "We are creating a memory corner and corridor (just like the one at West Suffolk College) and we require all types of memorabilia and household items from the 1940s to the 1980s.

"We will use the items to bring back memories and reminisce on the old times with the people we support who live with dementia."

Anyone with any memorabilia they think may be useful should email haverhill@cambridgecarecompany.com or call Nathalie or Lorraine on (01440) 705589. Items can also be taken into the office on Rookwood Way in Haverhill.

Youngsters go on safari in church

A CHURCH in Haverhill was transformed into a safari base as children enjoyed a week of songs, games and crafts as jungle explorers.

At the children's holiday club in St Mary's Church last week, pillars were turned into giant palm trees, pews became a treehouse and the chancel roped off to form a Safari base HQ.

Almost 40 children aged between 5-11 made binoculars, paper chain snakes, animal face masks, cupcakes and painted stone bugs.

Church Missioner Capt Andrew Payne said: "It's very exciting to see people coming to church and having such fun. This is what our faith is about, and also how we continue to serve our town and community."

Town gets first Travelodge hotel

TARA COX
@TaraCoxCN

TRAVELodge has opened its first hotel in Haverhill after taking over the Day's Inn building – which will be given a £700,000 refurbishment.

The new Haverhill Travelodge has 80 rooms, a restaurant, meeting room and on-site parking for 80 vehicles.

Fifteen employees, including the hotel manager and nine outsourced housekeeping colleagues, have all transferred under TUPE regulations to the new Travelodge.

As part of the transaction, the landlord Jaynic Investments is spending £700,000 on modernising the hotel.

The hotel will operate as normal during the refurbishment work, which is being undertaken by local contractors Troy Construction.

Tony O'Brien, Travelodge UK development director said: "We are very pleased to have acquired the Days Inn hotel and to open our first

DELIGHTED: Tony O'Brien, Travelodge UK development director

Travelodge in Haverhill.

"We have been looking to open a hotel in the town for some time and are delighted to secure a site."

The £700,000 investment includes upgraded rooms with Travelodge dreamer beds and a sleep inducing colour palette for the room's décor.

The hotel's reception, hallways and restaurant area will also be spruced up under the plans.

Mr O'Brien added: "Over the next three months, we will work around the clock and update this property into a new contemporary Travelodge hotel."

"With our modernised hotel, our team are well placed to service business and leisure visitors to Haverhill."

Nic Rumsey, managing director for Jaynic Investments, said he was delighted that Travelodge had taken a 25-year lease as there was a 'growing demand for high quality and good value accommodation' in Haverhill.

A statement posted on the Haverhill Days Inn Facebook page, which was met with many comments of support from customers, read: "We ceased trading on July 29."

"The team and I would like to thank all of our customers and hope you will continue to use the hotel when it transfers to Travelodge."

POLICE

Awards for police after fires in town

SIX police officers who showed 'exceptional bravery in the face of danger' have been praised for their life-saving actions after two fires in Haverhill.

Police officers, staff and volunteers attended a commendation ceremony at Suffolk Police Headquarters last Wednesday to receive recognition for their exemplary service and dedication.

Suffolk's Chief Constable Gareth Wilson and Suffolk Police and Crime Commissioner Tim Passmore presented the awards.

Richard Starkey, Alan Janes and Stuart Cirket received Protection of Life from Fire certificates following their brave actions at the scene of a fire. In March, 2015, they dragged a man out of a house which was on fire in Haverhill.

Kevin Rolt, Paul Greenwood and Rob March also received the same certificates following their actions at a separate house fire in Haverhill the same month, where a man was in a second floor bedroom. The fire was intense and they risked their own lives to reach the man. Sadly, they were unable to save him but those at the ceremony were told how they all showed exceptional bravery in the face of danger.

PEOPLE had a chuffing good time as a new event boasting a number of vintage steam engines came to Kedington for the first time.

Thousands of people visited the Kedington Steam and Vintage Show, held last weekend at the Great Meadow and organised by the Community Association (KCA).

At the event there were 15 steam engines, vintage tractors, cars, stationary engines and craft and trade stalls.

Organiser Matt Garwood said: "We had so many wonderful vehicles there and thank you to all who came."

The vintage show was supported by The East Anglian Traction Engine Society and will raise money for the KCA to help its maintenance of the meadow and community centre.

RICH DISCOVERY:
Quentin Robinson with the 200 year old sonata about the Battle of Trafalgar he hopes to get recorded
Picture: Vikki Lince

A LONG lost piece of music telling the tale of the Battle of Trafalgar could be about to be heard for the first time in 200 years – in Haverhill.

Following the discovery of a 200-year-old piece of sheet music by author and composer, George E Blake, a Haverhill man has embarked on a quest to have the music brought to life once more.

Quentin Robinson and his friend Mike Pendry discovered the 19-page manuscript, which is a musical score telling the story of the battle of Trafalgar, and are now looking for local musicians to help play it.

"It has been in a museum in the States," said Quentin. "We have been trying for a couple of weeks to find people to play it. We have had all sorts of people with good intentions, but no joy."

"In desperation, we thought, there's bound to be someone who plays piano in Haverhill."

As luck would have it, a local woman contacted Quentin to tell him her son, a gifted young classical pianist, was ready to take on the challenge of deciphering and performing the score.

JOSH THOMAS

"Emma Ridgeway got in touch," said Quentin. "Her son Joel is a great classical musician. I delivered the 19-pages of the Battle of Trafalgar and we are waiting to see the results."

Joel will now begin the painstaking work of putting together the music and working out how it should be arranged and played.

Joel's mum, Emma, said: "He's excited about the challenge. He's more than capable of doing it. I'm really proud of him."

It is thought this will be the first time the rare piece has been heard in 200 years, making its discovery and performance historic events for the music and the musician.

"It is quite something," said Quentin. "It has been stuck in a museum and we have not been able to find a recording of it. It is a lost piece of music. We would love to listen to it."

Blake is also the author of a book called The siege of Valenciennes. He was born in Yorkshire in 1774, and died in 1871 in Philadelphia.

Both Quentin and Mike are interested in naval history and are involved in the conservation of a sloop, the HMS Pickle, that was present at the battle of Trafalgar.

Given the music's naval ties, Quentin said he wanted to stage a concert aboard the Pickle, which is currently moored in Harwich. Once the piece has been transcribed for the piano, Quentin said it may be possible to work out the corresponding parts for other instruments.

"The wonderful thing about old music is it is out of copyright," Quentin said. "If it's alright, we can do a concert on the HMS Pickle. That's if it's any good. Of course, there could be a good reason this piece of music has not been played in 200 years."

Thanks for the memories BHS

It is with great sadness after many years of service to Cambridge that the BHS store is finally closing with the sad loss of all jobs.

I would like to say a big thank you to all the staff over the years for all their help and kindness shown to all. I do hope they are all able to find suitable employment soon. What with previous closures of the Co-op department store and then Woolworths, now BHS it seems like all the main stores from my childhood have been cast aside.

It is a sad day not just for Cambridge, but the whole High Street throughout the UK.

Forced to make a choice

NEW research published by the Trussell Trust brings home the desperate choices facing many families across the UK this summer.

The findings reveal that a fifth of parents will skip a meal during the school holidays so that their children can eat, with the charity estimating that as many as 1.5 million people could be forced to forgo food over the coming weeks.

As a charity fighting poverty in the UK, we hear from families who are struggling with decisions like these every single day. 42 per cent of parents told us they are worried about spending more on food for their children during the summer break and 36 per cent are concerned about paying their essential bills at this time. As a result, one in six will be forced to borrow money through credit cards, overdrafts and loans to make it through.

We know that the extra financial costs that the school summer holidays bring create added pressure for families who are already struggling to afford housing, food and other essentials. It's clear that more needs to be done to put an end to holiday hunger and we're working together with the Trussell Trust and other like-minded organisations to ensure that support for families is as accessible and prominent as possible.

We urge anyone who is struggling to use our free Benefits Calculator, Grants Search and other help at Turn2us.org.uk to find out quickly and easily what support could be available

Children can be vegan too

VEGAN diets for children have made headlines recently. Many people have raised the concern that excluding animal products is extreme and dangerous, but they couldn't be further from the truth.

According to the British Dietetic Association, vegan diets can be suitable for anyone, of any age.

So why does the concept of vegan children provoke such judgement, fear and anger?

We teach children to love animals, while feeding them meat. This sends a very confusing message. Children are then conditioned to see meat as food, and to forget it was once part of a living, breathing animal. Parents consider the truth of the meat industry too disturbing to share with children. But surely this means that we should stop funding it, rather than help to keep it hidden.

Of course, any child can choose to change their diet when they're old enough.

People raising vegan children simply want this to be a choice informed by facts and compassion, rather than habit.

Vegan diets are often described as being 'controversial' or 'extreme'. But if we know we can live healthy, happy lives without killing animals, what now seems the most controversial and extreme choice?

EMERGENCY SERVICES

TRAGEDY: The Camgrain site near Linton where Edward Orlopp died in an accident

Tributes paid to 'gentle giant'

JOSH THOMAS
@JoshThomasCN

TRIBUTES have been paid to a man described as a "gentle giant" after he was killed in a "tragic" industrial accident at a grain storage facility in Linton.

Camgrain site manager, Edward Orlopp, 47, is believed to have died after being in collision with a lorry last Wednesday.

A statement from Camgrain chairman John Latham said: "It is with great sadness I have to inform you that our long standing site manager, valued colleague and friend, Edward Orlopp, tragically lost his life in an incident at our Linton site."

"We are doing everything we can to support Edward's family and colleagues at this very difficult and distressing time."

Officers were called to Cambridge Road at around

5.25pm.

Mr Orlopp's family have been informed.

A spokesman for Camgrain said: "It was a tragic accident. We are now investigating the matter with all the relevant parties. Camgrain has an extremely good record for safety. We've been in Linton for 34 years."

The accident happened when Mr Orlopp was in collision with a lorry at the 76-silo Camgrain site.

Mr Orlopp, who is survived by his brother and father, lived alone in Bury St Edmunds and was a keen member of the Suffolk Young Farmers group.

Tory Lugsden, county co-ordinator for Suffolk Young Farmers, knew him for more than 20 years.

She said: "Eddie-o was one of the nicest, kindest people you would ever meet."

"He would always come to Suffolk Young Farmers events and be there late, always laughing right until the end.

"His death is a huge loss for the club and for everyone who knew him. He was such a lovely man, a gentle giant."

Ms Lugsden said Mr Orlopp loved his job and had worked there for as long as she had known him.

She added: "He was a special man, a big loss to our club and to our generation of Suffolk Young Farmers."

The Camgrain site was closed overnight following the accident.

A spokesman for the East of England Ambulance Service NHS Trust said: "We sent HART (hazardous area response team), rapid response vehicle, ambulance crew, ambulance officer, and the EAAA response car."

"Sadly nothing could be done for a man at the incident and he was pronounced dead at the scene. Our thoughts are with his friends and family involved during this sad time."

We thought of you today
But that is nothing new
We thought of you yesterday
And will tomorrow too
We think of you in silence
And make no outward show
For what it meant to lose you
Only those who love you know
Remembering you is easy
We do it every day
It's the heartache of losing you
That will never go away.

COMMUNITY

Family history group looking to the future

TARA COX
@TaraCoxCN

A FAMILY history group in Haverhill, which has gone from strength to strength over the years, is inviting members of the community to an open day in September.

In 1983 a few family history 'pioneers' invited others to join them and so, on October 20 with £9 in donations, the Haverhill and District Family History Society was formed.

The earliest gatherings were in organiser Margaret Elsdon's kitchen.

From 11am until 4pm on Saturday, September 10, the group will be hosting an open day in the Haverhill Library on Camps Road.

Charmian Thompson, of the group, said: "This is an opportunity for anyone who is keen to start family research, or anyone who may need some inspiration, to help them find a way forward."

Over the last few months

WAY BACK WHEN: The Haverhill and District Family History Society at an early meeting, and some of their archive photos many people have supported the group, either by providing photographs and information for the Armed Forces Day exhibition or visiting the group's Somme display.

EMERGENCY SERVICES

Chemical spill probe launched

AN INVESTIGATION has been launched after a woman was taken to hospital following a large chemical spill at a unit in Haverhill.

Emergency services were alerted to a spill at Cornelius Specialities, based in Rookwood Way, at 2pm on Friday. Upon arrival the emergency service crews discovered that 50kg of acryloyl chloride had spilled in an area within the premises.

Acryloyl chloride is a derivative of acrylic acid and can cause eye and skin burns, as well as digestive and respiratory tract burns.

It is a clear, light yellow, flammable liquid with an acrid smell.

Eight fire engines attended the incident.

A spokesman for Suffolk County Council said: "Due to the incident there was one casualty reported - a lady who was suffering from red eyes and a headache."

"She has been taken to

TARA COX

@TaraCoxCN

hospital. Other people have been assessed by the ambulance staff at the scene.

"It seems the leak was entirely contained within the premises."

"Therefore, there have been no road closures."

A spokesman for Cornelius Specialities said: "We can confirm that at 2pm on Friday a spillage occurred involving a speciality chemical (a lachrymatory substance)."

"The company's emergency response team contained the spillage and staff were evacuated as a precaution."

"Emergency services attended the site as a precautionary measure and did not need to perform any further isolation or clean-up of the incident."

"We can confirm there is no risk to local residents and that staff have been allowed to return to the building.

"Cornelius Specialities Ltd takes its health and safety responsibilities extremely seriously."

"A full investigation into the cause of the incident is under way."

The Environment Agency and Public Health England have been informed.

Cornelius Specialities Ltd is described as having 'key expertise' in the manufacture of methacrylate chemistry for contact lens, dental and structural adhesive markets, operating in the sector for more than 30 years.

The company's headquarters are based in Haverhill and the company itself is part of the Cornelius Group Plc.

EDUCATION

Teaching duo's school farewell

TARA COX
@TaraCoxCN

A TEACHING duo with more than 70 years of experience between them have said their goodbyes to Samuel Ward Academy.

Rob Worley and Janet Shaw both retired from the Haverhill school at the end of term.

Janet arrived at the school in 1980 and both her children also attended Samuel Ward during her four decades of teaching.

Rob, who lives in Castle Hedingham, joined Samuel Ward two years before his fellow teacher.

Rob, a former assistant headteacher at the school, said: "I joined when Samuel Ward first opened in 1978, initially as a history and PE teacher.

"Like Janet, I worked with special needs children and there was a lot of integration and inclusion with mainstream education."

RETIREMENT: Janet Shaw and Rob Worley who have left Haverhill's Samuel Ward Academy

Asked what had kept her at Samuel Ward for so long, Janet, who lives in Clare, said: "The vision of the headteachers and what they expect from the children. has made it a very good school to teach in."

Howard Lay, chief executive of Samuel Ward Academy Trust and former headteacher at Samuel Ward

Academy, praised both teachers for their hard work over the years.

He said: "Rob is a caring and supportive teacher loved and respected by pupils. Janet is an excellent teacher of English and special needs and helped pupils believe in themselves. Both are professional teachers to their core."

ENTRY DEADLINE 5PM, FRIDAY 26TH AUGUST 2016

Haverhill Community Sports Association

Haverhill Rovers Football Club 2016/17

3G pitch due at The New Croft

THE Haverhill Rovers ground at The New Croft is due to unveil its new 3G pitch on September 3.

"The new pitch puts this site on the map as one of the best grounds in the south of England," said Haverhill Community Sports Association facilitation manager and football development manager Peter Betts. "It's not just Haverhill Rovers' ground, it's open to all football clubs and community groups, which currently includes a slimming organisation, a baby group and a dance group."

"The 3G pitch development has been a big build, it's a £700,000 facility which has been realised through hard work from the board, a Football Association grant and support from St Edmundsbury Council – it's been a real collective effort which will benefit Haverhill as a whole."

Peter's responsibilities also include supporting the development of your players for Haverhill Rovers.

"It starts at age three," he says. "We run a free football session on Saturday and Sunday mornings called Mini Kickers. We have links to local schools – the toddlers feed into club activity when they're aged six, and we encourage players between the age of six and 65 to get involved."

Haverhill Community Sports Association also caters for weddings, group and wedding parties on site. "It's a fantastic outcome for the whole community – we work in partnership with everyone for everyone," Peter says.

For further information please call the New Croft site team on (01440) 702137 or Peter who is on 07539 229114, follow the team on social media @TheNewCroft, on Facebook at "Haverhill Community Sports Association" or email enquiries to HCSA3G@outlook.com.

new optimism at Haverhill Rovers

The influx of squad members is complemented by a core of young players who all performed well towards the end of last season as they managed to guide the club to a 12th place finish. Pre-season has seen some good results, lots of goals and many great performances as the players, the vast majority of whom are locally based, gel into a team.

Some games to watch out for during the season are the Boxing Day clash at home to local rivals Saffron Walden, the other local derbies against Long Melford and Newmarket, and the FA Competition games.

Rovers face Spartan South Midland League promotion hopefuls Hertford Town at home in the FA Cup Extra preliminary round on Saturday, August 6, which completes an exciting opening week of fixtures, having faced TN Premier title favourites Stanway Rovers on August 2. In the FA Vase there will also be an all Haverhill affair to look forward to as Rovers visit Borough in late September.

The main objective for the club this season is to play some entertaining football and to try and build upon the excellent existing support base to create a fantastic atmosphere around the club at 3pm on a Saturday.

For more information on Haverhill Rovers and its upcoming fixtures go to pitchero.com/clubs/haverhillroversfc.

HAVERHILL ROVERS: Very active in recruiting and developing talent from a young age right through to seniors

New manager

WITH the appointment of Ben Cowling as first team manager at Haverhill Rovers for the coming season there's a growing sense of optimism around the club that progress can be made and that the team can achieve a top half finish.

The club has been very active in player recruitment, with Danny Hill and Luke Latham joining from West Wrating, while Jonathan Milne, Ryan Geoghegan, Ben Bradley, Harry Halls and Charlie Turner follow Cowling from Haverhill Borough.

This summer has also seen Ben Burton turn his loan spell at the end of last season into a permanent move, the return of Ryan Weaver and Ross Elkins from Halstead Town, and also the return of Sam Holmes, having spent most of last year playing rugby, to captain the side.

Thursday, August 4 – Friday, August 12

■ It's that time again, can't believe it, there will be no events in the arts centre's main hall from today until Sunday, August 7; it's the annual clean/maintenance week.

■ But don't despair; who can resist a live broadcast from Glyndebourne of Beatrice et Benedict on Tuesday, August 9, at 6.30pm? Composer Hector Berlioz selected the funniest elements of Shakespeare's Much Ado About Nothing and set them to ravishing music to create this witty love-hate duel. Sung in French with English subtitles, purr along ...

■ Haverhill & District Flower Club's annual Floral Art Competition, always a favourite, takes place on Friday, August 12, from 1.30pm to 5pm and Saturday, August 13, from 9.30am to 4.30pm. Be inspired!

■ For anyone wondering how their pets behave when they're not at home, The Secret Life of Pets 2D (U) showing on Monday, August 8 and Tuesday, August 9, at 10.30am, might give you a clue regarding their antics. Wily terrier Max loses his preferred pooch status when his owner acquires a large, sloppy mongrel named Duke. Bring it on ... Later at 7.30pm the arts centre has Reel Culture award winner Mustang (15). Five sisters' innocent frisking on the beach with classmates is reported back to their guardians as lewd behaviour, prompting a beating by the uncle and increasingly harsh restrictions on their activities. Turkish with English subtitles.

■ Events to look forward to include an afternoon of fun and mayhem in the form of Silly Philly's House of Fun on Thursday, August 18, at 2.30pm. Phil, one of the stars of the 2015 pantomime, Cinderella, returns to the venue with his fun-packed show for the whole family. Phil Hoyles (without the wigs and make-up as one of the Ugly Sisters) presents a show full of comedy magic, games, competitions and dances. Be prepared for some audience participation, a special guest and an appearance from Benji the (real) white bunny. If you're up for more kids' entertainment Lazy Town Live on Stage on Thursday, August 25, at 2.30pm, is a brand-new, non-stop, interactive, energetic treat, jam-packed with singing, dancing, acrobatics, music and fun. Robbie is at his rottenest and Sportacus at his super-active best. Featuring songs like No One's Lazy in LazyTown, Bing Bang and Never Say Never, the show engages, entertains and motivates children to make healthier choices. Both shows are suitable for ages 3 to 103! And for the grown-ups the arts centre has the return of The Indians following their sell out show last year on September 2 at 7.30pm.

What to watch out for at your local cinema

JASON BOURNE (12A)

JASON Bourne (Matt Damon) believes he knows how the US government moulded him into a trained killer as part of Operation Treadstone. He is living off the grid on the Greek-Albanian border and posing as a bare-knuckle brawler.

Far away in Iceland, former contact Nicky Parsons (Julia Stiles) illegally accesses the CIA mainframe to download confidential files about Bourne's former life as David Webb. She discovers a shocking secret and resolves to share the data with the elusive operative.

"We've just been hacked. Could be worse than Snowden," agent Craig Jeffers (Ato Essandoh) informs his boss, CIA director Robert Dewey (Tommy Lee Jones), once the breach is detected.

Ambitious protégée Heather Lee (Alicia Vikander) plants malware that allows her to covertly track Nicky's movements. "I will deliver Parsons, the files and – if he's out there – I will give you Bourne too," Heather promises Dewey. She dispatches a hit man, codename Asset (Vincent Cassel), to neutralise the targets.

Meanwhile, Dewey locks horns with technology guru Aaron Kalloor (Riz Ahmed) about invasions of privacy which allow the US government to spy on citizens.

Jason Bourne is a deceptive slow burn for the opening half hour, but once the script lights the fuse on manifold deceptions, there's little time to breathe between plot revelations and bloodthirsty retribution. ★★★★★

THE BFG (PG)

THE heroine is a precocious orphan called Sophie (Ruby Barnhill), who is snatched from her bed at the witching hour by a hooded 24-foot tall figure.

The behemoth spirits the girl over verdant valleys and crashing seas to the rolling landscapes of Giant Country. "No such place!" Sophie defiantly informs her host, who introduces himself as the Big Friendly Giant (Mark Rylance). The BFG wouldn't normally kidnap a child, but he explains that he was fearful Sophie might cause a great rumpledumps by yodelling the news that she had seen a giant.

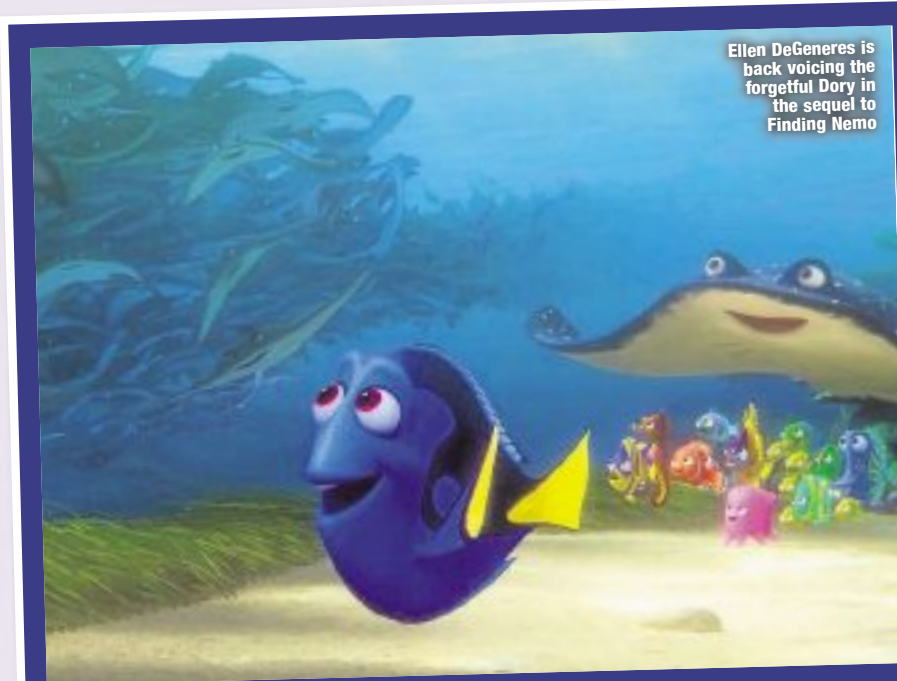

A tender and deeply touching friendship is forged between Sophie and her kind-hearted abductor, who exists on a diet of disgusting snozzcumbers and is bullied by filthy fellow giants including Fleshumpeater (Jemaine Clement), Bloodbottler (Bill Hader), Maimasher (Olafur Darri Olafsson) and Manhugger (Adam Godley).

In order to rid Giant Country of these man-gobblers, Sophie hatches a hare-brained scheme to visit The Queen (Penelope Wilton) at Buckingham Palace. The BFG joins her on this madcap quest, and his presence smacks the gobs of the assembled staff including The Queen's dutiful maid Mary (Rebecca Hall) and head butler Mr Tibbs (Rafe Spall).

Directed with verve by Steven Spielberg, The BFG is a visually arresting ride that gently tugs heartstrings in between rollicking set pieces. ★★★★★

ABSOLUTELY FABULOUS: THE MOVIE (15)

LIFE is tough for PR doyenne Edina Monsoon (Jennifer Saunders). Her client list has thinned to Lulu and Emma Bunton and she continues to clash with strait-laced daughter Saffy (Julia Sawalha), who struggles to protect her 13-year-old daughter Lola (Indeyarna Donaldson-Holness) from Edina's negative influence. To add insult to injury, Edina's lucrative

Ellen DeGeneres is back voicing the forgetful Dory in the sequel to Finding Nemo

Film pick

FINDING DORY (U)

DORY (Ellen DeGeneres) is the next-shell neighbour of Marlin (Albert Brooks) and his young son, Nemo (Hayden Rolence) on the Great Barrier Reef.

During a field trip to witness the stingray migration, the loveable blue tang experiences a rush of fragmented memories of her parents Charlie (Eugene Levy) and Jenny (Diane Keaton). "I miss 'em", Dory tells Marlin and the plucky fish embark on an epic quest to California to reunite the forgetful daughter with her loved ones. Initially, the travellers ride strong currents with sea turtle Crush (Andrew Stanton) and his bodacious brethren, but when they eventually arrive at the Marine Life Institute, Dory is separated from her pals.

She languishes in quarantine with a grouchy sepiopus called Hank (Ed O'Neill), who possesses remarkable powers of camouflage. Meanwhile, Marlin and Nemo abide by Dory's mantra – "Just keeping swimming" – and enlist help from wise-cracking sea lions Fluke (Idris Elba) and Rudder (Dominic West), near-sighted whale shark Destiny (Kaitlin Olson) and a beluga whale called Bailey (Ty Burrell), who has lost his echo location as the result of a concussion.

Finding Dory is the emotional and comical equal of its predecessor, dazzling the senses with stunningly realistic visuals and Thomas Newman's buoyant orchestral score. ★★★★★

OPENING THIS WEEK

■ Suicide Squad (15)

With the world at risk from an entity that's believed to be impossible to overcome, US intelligence officer Amanda Waller decides to pull together a team of incarcerated super villains to face this foe. But, this is no ordinary task force: it's a group of dangerous criminals with nothing to lose and an every man for himself mentality. When a chance at redemption is laid on the table, can they manage to pull together and succeed in the face of an almost-certain chance of failure? Or will they regress to their self-interested roots when it's discovered they weren't chosen for their slim chance of succeeding, but for their culpability when things inevitably go wrong?

and birds including a pampered Eskimo dog named Gidget (Jenny Slate), who is head over fluffy tail in love with Max. Max's bond with Katie is threatened when his owner brings home a lolling mongrel named Duke (Eric Stonestreet), who she has saved from the pound. Intense rivalry spills out on to the city streets where Max and Duke fall foul of a sphynx cat called Ozone (Steve Coogan) and are mistaken for strays by animal control officers.

The Secret Life Of Pets is the brainchild of the makers of Despicable Me and Minions, and retains a similar visual style and family-friendly sense of humour. ★★★★★

THE LEGEND OF TARZAN (12A)

IT has been many years since Tarzan (Alexander Skarsgård) left behind the jungles of Africa to settle into genteel life as John Clayton III, Lord Greystoke, with his beloved wife, Jane (Margot Robbie).

The lush paradise of the Congo is a sweet, distant memory until the British Prime Minister (Jim Broadbent) passes on an invitation from King Leopold II of Belgium to visit the Congo as a trade emissary of Parliament.

John initially refuses, but gun-slinging American envoy George Washington Williams (Samuel L Jackson) persuades the Greystoke tie to go in order to investigate rumours that Leopold has enslaved local tribes to build his railroad.

John, Jane and George depart for the Congo, unaware that they are pawns in a deadly game masterminded by Machiavellian Belgian envoy, Captain Leon Rom (Christopher Waltz), who has agreed to deliver Tarzan to Chief Mbonga (Djimon Hounsou) in exchange for the legendary diamonds of Opar.

A stand-off ensues and Jane is captured as tantalising bait. Faced with the prospect of losing his soulmate, John gathers together his animal friends and unleashes the primal warrior of the past. ★★★★★ book deal for her memoir collapses when an editor points out that she has nothing to say. "I put Sting in a rainforest, I put Bono behind yellow glasses," splutters Edina. "I gave celebrities Aids!"

Thankfully, best friend Patsy Stone (Joanna Lumley) is in the media eye and her magazine is sponsoring a lavish party for enigmatic designer Huki Muki (Janetie Tough). Kate Moss, who is between publicists, is due to attend the soiree and Edina vows to add the supermodel to her dwindling client roster before arch rival Claudia Bing (Celia Imrie).

This hare-brained scheme goes tragically awry and the fashion world points the finger of blame for Kate Moss' demise at Edina and Patsy. "Manslaughter charges might be brought," confirms a detective (Robert Webb), who is dating Saffy.

When ditzy secretary Bubble (Jane Horrocks) vanishes too, Edina and Patsy flee to the Cote d'Azur to snag wealthy husbands. "Living well is the best revenge," affirms Patsy with a lipstick-smudged grin. ★★★★★

STAR TREK BEYOND (12A)

CAPTAIN James T Kirk (Chris Pine) is considering relinquishing the bridge because "things have started to feel a little... episodic".

He keeps his plans secret from the rest of the crew including human-Vulcan science officer Spock (Zachary Quinto), communications officer Uhura (Zoe Saldana), navigator Pavel Chekov (Anton Yelchin), chief engineer Montgomery Scott (Simon Pegg) and helmsman Sulik (John Cho).

During a visit to a Federation starbase under the control of Commodore Paris (Shohreh Aghashloo), an alien called Kalarra (Lydia Wilson) issues a distress call to help recover her ship, which has crash-landed on a planet in a distant nebula. Kirk and the team respond and subsequently come under attack from an otherworldly despot called Krall (Idris Elba) and his swarming drones.

While the Enterprise crew forges an alliance with feisty alien warrior Jaylah (Sofia Boutella), Kirk holds firm to his moral compass, defiantly informing Krall that it's "better to die saving lives than to live taking them".

Star Trek Beyond dodges the curse of misfiring odd-numbered films in the series, but the flaws are obvious. Pine, Quinto and co are solid in roles that lack dramatic meat and don't progress the characters over two hours, and a flimsy, contrived plot resolves potential conflict with minimum blood, sweat and tears. ★★★★★

GHOSTBUSTERS (12A)

ERIN Gilbert (Kristen Wiig) hopes to secure tenure at Columbia University, but her academic future is thrown into disarray when childhood friend Abby Yates (Melissa McCarthy) peddles copies of their long forgotten 400-page tome, Ghostbusters From The Past: Both Literally & Figuratively.

The two women are reunited in the lab where Erin conducts experiments with her madcap protégée, nuclear engineer Jillian Holtzmann (Kate McKinnon). A haunting at Aldridge Mansion gives the trio their first glimpse of the fight ahead, and soon after, balsy subway worker Patty Tolan (Leslie Jones) joins the team, blessed with an encyclopaedic knowledge of Manhattan's grim history.

It transpires that a demented misfit called Rowan North (Neil Casey) is summoning ghosts to create a vortex between the living and the dead. Armed with proton backpacks, the gang gallantly races into the fray, risking ridicule from the media and Mayor Bradley (Andy Garcia). When disaster looms, Erin pleads with Bradley to evacuate the city.

Ghostbusters affectionately harks back to the series' glory days before the creative misstep of the 1989 sequel. McCarthy and Wiig rekindle their Bridemaids on-screen chemistry, with colourful turns from McKinnon and Jones, and merciless self-mockery from Hemsworth. ★★★★★

ICE AGE: COLLISION COURSE (U)

THE film opens with Scrat inadvertently propelling a giant space rock towards the third rock from the sun. Back on terra firma, Manny the woolly mammoth (Ray Romano) has forgotten about his wedding anniversary and pretends fireworks in the sky – actually meteorite chunks entering the atmosphere – are a surprise for his wife Ellie (Queen Latifah).

Wonderment turns to terror as molten missiles career into the earth. "Manny's love is killing us!" screams one of the critters as everyone gallop into caves, cowering together for shelter.

Once the deluge subsides, Manny and his pals Diego the sabre-toothed tiger (Denis Leary) and Sid the sloth (John Leguizamo) emerge to survey the devastation.

One-eyed daredevil weasel Buck (Simon Pegg) discovers ancient runes that confirm a giant meteorite is heading for the planet. The animals, including Diego's tigress sweetheart Shira (Jennifer Lopez), Sid's 80-year-old grandmother (Wanda Sykes), Manny's spunky daughter Peaches (Keke Palmer) and her laidback boyfriend Julian (Adam DeVine), embark on a madcap quest to avert disaster.

Meanwhile, a family of carnivorous fying dinosaurs, comprising father Gavin (Nick Offerman) and children Gertie (Stephanie Beatriz) and Roger (Max Greenfield), tracks the exodus from the air.

Ice Age: Collision Course relies on old tensions between friends and family members to provide the fifth film with a burp of dramatic momentum that quickly dissipates. ★★

THE SECRET LIFE OF PETS (U)

KATIE (voiced by Ellie Kemper) lives in her Manhattan apartment with a mischievous terrier named Max (Louis CK). He is good friends with other domesticated animals and birds including a pampered Eskimo dog named Gidget (Jenny Slate), who is head over fluffy tail in love with Max. Max's bond with Katie is threatened when his owner brings home a lolling mongrel named Duke (Eric Stonestreet), who she has saved from the pound. Intense rivalry spills out on to the city streets where Max and Duke fall foul of a sphynx cat called Ozone (Steve Coogan) and are mistaken for strays by animal control officers.

Mazda CX-3

Mazda CX-3 2.0 2WD Sport Nav

Price: £20,495

Mechanical: 120ps, 1,998cc
4-cyl petrol engine driving front wheels via six-speed manual transmission

Max speed: 119mph
0-62mph: 9.0 seconds

Combined mpg: 47.9

Insurance group: 17

CO2 emissions: 137g/km

Warranty: 3yrs/60,000 miles

STYLE and technology are a compelling combination in today's new car market.

So too is crossover cool in a compact package – and all are attributes Mazda has put together in the striking shape of its supermini-based CX-3.

The plan all along was to take the SUV scene by storm and the Japanese manufacturer lined up a big battalion from day one last summer with an 18-strong line-up.

The CX-3 comes via a choice of 11 petrol and seven diesel variants, all featuring the brand's fuel-saving SKYACTIV technology plus a swathe of standard kit.

Staying a step of your rivals though is all-important and Mazda has upped the ante with techno treats aimed at staying ahead of the pack.

So stuff like the Japanese company's i-ACTIVSENSE safety systems are on every model along with a seven-inch touch screen, DAB radio, multi-function steering wheel and Bluetooth.

What instantly grabs the attention is the Mazda's coupe-like style – it looks larger than you might expect from a small SUV while displaying a sense of speed with its flowing lines.

Opt for some of the vibrant paint jobs with chrome side strips and 18-inch machined alloy wheels and the CX-3 really looks the business.

There's a choice of five trim grades, with prices from £17,595 to £24,695, an attractive cabin, two-tone leather upholstery in higher spec variants and as high quality sound system.

It's a tight squeeze for three passengers across the back, though the centre rear position is comfortable, and while the boot is on the small side the rear seats do split and fold 60/40.

The most frugal engine on offer is the 1.5-litre diesel, which can return a potential 70 miles per gallon, but the 2.0-litre petrol units have been proving more popular.

Of the pair, developing either 120 or 150ps, the lower powered version with front-wheel drive provides ample punch and reasonable economy.

We recorded an average return of 44mpg over 350 miles of mixed urban and motorway driving in a car that feels spirited, poised and well balanced.

That even the most basic models come well kitted out is an attraction in itself, while Sport Nav grade brings items you don't generally find in this category of car like a head-up display and LED headlights.

And plenty of thought has gone into the design of the CX-3 to make it as user friendly as possible too.

For instance to ensure easier access to the rear seats, the bottom of the rear door overlaps the side sill and an obliquely cut-away edge allows the door to be opened wider in tight spaces like small parking bays.

Citroen's city car range expands with the C1 Furio

CITROËN is extending its C1 city car range with the introduction of a new C1 Furio, offering young drivers an affordable, sporty looking car. Building on Citroën's sporting credentials, C1 Furio will be on sale in the UK from August 1.

Bringing a new sporty style and unique features to the Citroën C1 city car range, C1 Furio will go on sale in the UK from 1 August, with prices starting from £10,855.

Available as a three door hatchback, the new C1 Furio boasts striking exterior styling to appeal to younger drivers wanting a sporty look, but without them having to pay a premium for a more powerful engine. Two powertrain options are available: VTi 68 manual and PureTech 82 manual.

Based on the existing 'Feel' trim level, C1 Furio benefits from the addition of black 15-inch 'Planet' alloy wheels, bold exterior graphics, plus Sunrise Red door mirrors and wheel centre caps to provide an eye-catching contrast to the Lipizzan White or Carlinite Grey metallic body colour paint options. A rear diffuser and centred exhaust outlet complete the sporty exterior.

Inside, C1 Furio benefits from the addition of 'Wave' grey cloth upholstery and a rev counter.

The new C1 Furio joins Citroën's long line of motor sport inspired small cars, including the 1990s Saxo Furio, plus cars like the AX Sport and C2 'by Loeb'.

Then new Citroën C1 Furio is available to order now and is officially on sale from 1 August 2016.

The Citroën C1 VTi 68 manual 3-door Furio is tagged at £10,855, while the C1 PureTech 82 manual 3-door Furio costs 11,205.

Founders' 1961 Jag for Salon Privé sale

AN incredibly special 1961 Jaguar Mk X owned by Sir William Lyons, founder of Jaguar, will be sold at auction later this year at Silverstone Auctions' Salon Privé Sale, held at Blenheim Palace on September 2 and 3.

Manufactured in December 1961 at the Coventry factory, the car was delivered to Sir William in January 1962 and registered to his Wappenbury Hall address in Warwickshire. Not just any ordinary Jaguar, this Mk X was one of the very first "Zenith" cars produced and made specifically for Lyons to use as his daily driver and finished to his very personal and exact specification.

Synonymous with his reputation, Lyons clearly demanded only the very best and the top of the range car houses a 3.8-litre, 6-cylinder engine, which could have whisked him along Warwickshire's roads at speeds of up to 120mph, impressive for Britain's widest ever production saloon.

BULLET: First new Bristol for 12 years

Bristol Cars unveils the Surrey-built Bullet

LUXURY British manufacturer Bristol Cars is to unveil its first new model since 2004.

The Bristol Bullet will be a limited-edition sports car built to celebrate the founding of the company 70 years ago.

A concept version of the model took to the track under the name Project Pinnacle at last month's Goodwood Festival of Speed in West Sussex.

The firm is promising the finished product will be "a sublime British sports car" with unique characteristics and powered by a 4.8-litre BMW engine.

The Bullet will be the first new model from Bristol Cars since its two-seater Fighter in 2004. It will be built in Surrey with production set to begin early next year.

Marshall boss conquers fears for charity skydive

ONE of the industry's key business leaders has swapped the boardroom for the open skies, jumping out of a plane at over 10,000 feet to raise funds for BEN, the charity dedicated to supporting those working in the automotive industry.

Marshall Motor Holding's CEO, Daksh Gupta, completed the jump as the pinnacle of a year of fundraising, in BEN's first ever Industry Leader Challenge event. Conquering his fear of heights has paid off, as currently the fundraising total stands at £142,000. Daksh hopes that the total will reach £150,000 once the final pledges from the last few companies come in.

Daksh Gupta completed his tandem skydive on last Friday, parachuting out of the plane at the Hinton Skydive Centre in Brackley, Northants.

Speaking after the jump, Daksh said: "I must admit the worst thing is going up. I was having second thoughts up there but it was amazing. We actually jumped from 13,000 feet, not 10,000. On the way up I was thinking 'creeky this is really high' and that's when your stomach goes. I can tell you I definitely wouldn't do it again. It was amazing but once is enough! When you come out of the plane you're actually doing 140 miles an hour freefall for about 50 seconds. You watch the earth come rapidly up to meet you and that's the worst part – then you're praying for the parachute to open. I was definitely glad to be back on the ground afterwards. This had to be one of the highlights for me in terms of life experiences. It was amazing, but seriously, I'm never doing it again!"

DAKSH GUPTA: Marshall Motors CEO said the jump was 'amazing'

Daksh is the first automotive industry leader to take on the Industry Leader Challenge which launched this year, in which an individual takes on a personal fundraising target over the course of a year, for BEN. Once completed they pass the baton on to the next automotive industry leader who then attempts to top the amount raised.

Along with the jump Daksh charged his dealership network to compete to raise cash for BEN, over a week of fundraising events which included team barbeques, a carnival, cycle rides, sponsored walks and a spinathon. Over 300 dealers, dealership groups, manufacturers, suppliers, financial services and individuals generously sponsored the challenge.

Daksh said: "I have really enjoyed taking part in the first ever Industry Leaders Challenge event for BEN and I'm thrilled that we have raised such an impressive amount of money. The funds raised will directly help those working in the industry when they need it the most. I would like to give my heartfelt thanks to my colleagues for getting fully behind this campaign as well as to everyone who donated; I couldn't have done it without you. Following the jump I received the very sad news that my mother had passed away. She always encouraged me to support charities and help people those less fortunate than me, so I'd like to dedicate this jump to her."

Jools Tait, business development director at BEN, said: "What a phenomenal achievement. Daksh you are a superstar and we can't thank you and your sponsors enough!"

"The funds raised will have a hugely positive impact, and will help BEN reach more people in the industry, allowing us to provide more practical support, advice and guidance to those who need it. BEN relies on our industry's support and we are incredibly grateful to everyone who contributed to this challenge."

BEN has already identified the next leader who will take on a challenge in 2017 and this, and the final amount raised by Daksh, will be revealed at the annual BEN Ball at the Grosvenor House in December.

Do you really know the man you married?

"I urge you to take reasonable steps in order that you are equipped to enter what is, in emotional terms, a hard-hat area."

When a double wedding of two sets of twins, told the story of her marriage to a man, finding a terrible secret. Her feelings and fears are laid bare in a gripping and powerful tale that will stay with you for a long time to come.

A true story of loss, betrayal and abuse

Sims soars to success in 24 Hours of Spa race

ALEXANDER Sims was thrilled to earn victory in the demanding Total 24 Hours of Spa race in Belgium.

Together with Philipp Eng and Maxime Martin, the West Wratting driver helped Rowe Racing overcome strong challengers to triumph in the gruelling event.

Despite a sudden downpour in the closing minutes of the race, Sims guided the #99 BMW M6 GT3 over the line at the undulating Spa-Francorchamps circuit almost two minutes clear of the Akka ASP Mercedes-AMG GT3 of nearest rivals Tristan Vautier, Felix Rosenqvist and Renger van der Zande.

And while Sims, 28, had made it on to the podium at the Blancpain GT Series event for the previous two years, it was the first time he had tasted success in the race.

He said: "What an incredible race. I'm so pleased that we were able to win the biggest GT race in the world."

"The team did an incredible job with preparation and strategy – the car felt great in every stint."

"With the BMW M6 being a new car this season, a lot of work went into this win behind the scenes."

"This is such a punishing race for everyone involved."

"Philipp and Maxime both drove brilliantly and helped to put us in a fantastic position as the clock ticked towards 24 hours."

Hunt gets Rovers off to fine Premier start

A BRACE from Marcus Hunt helped Haverhill Rovers get their Thurlow Nunn League, Premier Division campaign off to a winning start on Tuesday night as they defeated Stanway Rovers 3-1 at home.

Hunt opened the scoring in the first half and although Stanway equalised after the break, he scored his second to put the hosts back in front.

Danny Hill wrapped up the win with a goal on his debut.

It was the perfect start for Rovers, who will be looking to improve on last year's 12th-place finish under new boss Ben Cowling, who resigned as Haverhill Borough chairman to take up the post.

Cowling is optimistic this season will bring better results, with a large number of new players joining the club.

New signings include former Borough players Charlie Turner, Jon Milne, Ryan Geoghegan, Ben Bradley and Harry Halls, as well as Ben Burton, Ryan Weaver, Ross Elkins, Sam Holmes and Danny Hill.

Cowling was able to complete most of his signings early in pre-season, so the new faces have had time to settle in.

"Pre-season has been pleasing," said Cowling.

"We've been very good in patches, and we've made mistakes which I'd rather we did now than during the league season. It's going to be a building process but we should get better and better as the season progresses."

"I want us to play good football, and we should be able to do that because we've got some very good players in the squad."

Haverhill Borough begin their campaign in the First Division at Diss Town on Saturday, with player-manager Martin Westcott hoping to challenge for promotion.

Casey Phillips, Errol Durrell, Jarryd Robson and Jake Gilder have been brought in, and pre-season has shown some good team and individual performances.

Westcott said: "There have been quite a few changes but we should be okay."

"We've got some really good players that have come in."

"We want to finish high up and challenge for promotion."

"We want to be competitive, we don't just want to be there to make up the numbers."

Hard-fought win for ladies

HAVERHILL Tennis Club's ladies enjoyed a hard-fought win over Newmarket in the Norfolk & Suffolk League.

Most of the sets were closely contested, with Sharon Mattheus and Marcia Armstrong winning 6-3, 7-6 and 6-4, 5-7.

Tennis

The other pairing of Abi Cartwright-Thomas & Danielle Miller shared their sets 6-3, 4-6 and 6-4, 5-7.

Six-a-side league to launch

A NEW six-a-side league will run at Haverhill Community Sports Village on Sundays between 6pm and 8pm from September 4.

Games cost £30 and there is free entry to the competition, run by Leisure Leagues, for a limited time.

Qualified referees will be in charge and plenty of prizes will be up for grabs. Register at www.leisureleagues.net or call 0333 123 2340 for details.

And they could not be separated on the day, with both players hitting three-under-par 67.
